

This article entitled “Memory Training in Interpreting” written by Weihe Zhong, talks about our STM (Short-Term Memory). To be a successful interpreter, Zhong emphasizes how important it is to train our STM to have effective processing, both consecutively and simultaneously. The article explains the WHY behind the importance of memory training.